BROOKLYN ITEMS.

LOSSES BY FIRE DURING THE PAST QUARTER.—During the months of May, June and July there were 20 fires and 16 alarms of fires in the city. The number of buildings consumed or partially damaged is about 38, and the whole amount of property destroyed is about $20,000, which can be estimated about $120,000, of which there was covered by insurance about $5,000.

IMPROVEMENTS.—A large building intended for manufacturing purposes is now nearly completed on the site of olden Seward's Foundry, which was consumed in fire on the 23d of June last. It is of brick, four stories high with a basement, and 70 feet front by 50 feet deep. On the rear and attached thereto another structure, also of brick, is in course of erection for foundry purposes, which will be 46 feet front by 70 feet deep. The value of the two lots upon which these buildings are erected is $50,000 each, and the cost of the buildings will be $90,000.

TAKEN WITH A FIT.—A young woman named Emma Wooley, was taken with a fit while riding in a stage from Brooklyn on Wednesday night. She was taken to the Second District Station-House by Officer Baldwin, and there was yesterday conveyed to the County Poor-House.

ACCIDENT AT THE FERRY.—On Wednesday night, a young man named David Stewart, had one of his legs badly crushed in attempting to jump off one of the Fulton Ferry boats before being secured to the bridge. He was conveyed to his residence, in Ninth av., New-York, by the friends that accompanied him. The accident was the result of foolhardiness.

POLICE BUSINESS.—A HIRD BREWED John Davis, the keeper of a boarding house in Mott-street, brought before Justice King yesterday, in summing up his case, of his boarders. He was said to have $15, and held it out to keep the peace.

A grainman was arrested in suspicion of stealing $100 from a baker's shop in Hudson-street. It is seen that another girl, named Farrell, had previously been in the shop and made a purchase, having in a $2 bill to the baker in payment. The change, as stated, was laid upon the counter, and the girl got it and went out. Shortly after the girl, Lunda, came in, and the charge was that she had taken the money, but the fact not being shown, she was honorably discharged.

WILLIAMSBURG ITEMS.

THIRD WARD MASS MEETING.—An unusually large number of Whigs met at Union Hall, corner of Ewen and Moseblests, in the Third Ward, last evening. Owing to the numbers present the meeting adjourned to the street, which was filled by a crowd numbering at one time during the evening as many as 2,000 persons. A bonfire lit up the occasion. The meeting was called to order by J. L. Fenn, Esq., Conrad Sweet, Esq., was appointed Chairman, and Geo. C. Preston, Secretary.

Mr. Sweet addressed the meeting at length in support of the Whigs as stated in the Wm. platform, while the Local Focus has a platform to which they do not venture to allude.

Judge Briggs of Williamsburgh next spoke in commendation of the policy of the Wm. party, and, while he conceded that Democrats sincerely differed with Whigs in opinion, he invited them candidly to listen to the discussion of political questions. He proceeded with a discussion on tariff question until his voice became hoarse.

Ex-Alc. Conklin, of the Fifteenth Ward, spoke in an able manner of the life and public services of Gen. Winfield Scott, and related instances of his fearless intrepidity in the service of his country.

Hon. F. T. Tallmadge, received with loud cheers, after introducing adopted son, who is the son of their master, Hiram Clay, and paid a fitting tribute to his memory. He referred to the brilliant services of Winfield Scott, and said that calamity could not stain his fair fame, won in the service of his country, especially in the battle of Lund's Lane, until the greatest disaster which it was fought caused by its loud roar to proclaim its crest. He then called upon Col. G. C. Conklin to go to our northern frontier to serve our country, and saw him return with laurels upon his brow, and with British lead in his body. Notwithstanding the services of Gen. Scott in the wars with Great Britain, and with the Indians, he was compelled to give up his commission, and to charge him with cowardice. Gen. Scott has been selected for President on account of his military and domestic skill, and the speaker said he should warmly support him for his services. His services as Garrison for our frontier and Indian troubles, were recounted by the orator, as were the persecutions of him by the Polk Administration after his brilliant achievements.

Charles S. Spencer, Esq., of New-York, next spoke in support of the Whigs, who he spoke of as the mounted Henry Clay, and paid a fitting tribute to his memory. He referred to the brilliant services of Winfield Scott, and said that calamity could not stain his fair fame, won in the service of his country, especially in the battle of Lund's Lane, until the greatest disaster which it was fought caused by its loud roar to proclaim its crest. He then called upon Col. G. C. Conklin to go to our northern frontier to serve our country, and saw him return with laurels upon his brow, and with British lead in his body. Jacob L. Penn, Esq., remarked severely upon the conduct of the Whig party, and, while he spoke of the mounted Henry Clay, paid a fitting tribute to his memory. He referred to the brilliant services of Winfield Scott, and said that calamity could not stain his fair fame, won in the service of his country, especially in the battle of Lund's Lane, until the greatest disaster which it was fought caused by its loud roar to proclaim its crest. The meeting then adjourned in a good spirit. A band of music was in attendance during the evening.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—A respectable audience attended the temperance meeting at the North Fifth-street Methodist Church, on Wednesday, Aug. 1st, Mr. Vose of Brooklyn addressed the meeting, this afternoon, in the duty of sustaining the Council in its efforts to close the Sunday liquor traffic. He gave more details in Williamsburgh than in Brooklyn. War, famine, pestilence, tornadoes, and violence, in their united destruction of life, do not equal the ravages of intemperance. He urged the friends of Temperance to make no trifling efforts and information present for their influence toward meeting the Temperance reform, and by exerting efforts to use their power at the ballot box.

John McIntosh, Esq., next addressed the meeting. He referred to the catastrophe of the loss of the Henry Clay and while lamentations are going up for the loss of less than a dozen lives dead or dying, there are a thousand daily instances of our own and a scarcely an indifferent word is said by the great popular. He considered the Maine Law as the only remedy for the evil. The meeting then adjourned.

ENG. CO. NO. 1.—Eng. Company No. 1, at their meeting last evening, concluded to accept the offer made by the Common Council, a lowing them possession of their engine if any ten of their number would testify that they were not engaged in the late riot. This Company had taken the necessary steps to test the legality of the action of the Aldermen in disbanding them; and, though mainly certain of success, were compelled to yield, and withdraw their resolution to disband.

He concluded by an eloquent appeal to the ladies present for their influence toward meeting the Temperance reform, and by exerting efforts to use their power at the ballot box.

At Greenwich, N. Y., Aug. 3, JAMES GEORGE STODDARD, aged 25 months, son of Mr. & Mrs. Stoddard, died this morning. The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully requested to attend his funeral, without funeral expenses, this afternoon at 1 o'clock, from his residence, No. 18 Warren-st., Brooklyn, N.Y.
